

Always use a safety harness when working at height, unless other protection is in place

Always use a safety harness when working at height, unless other protection is in place.